

PRESS RELEASE

February 13, 2019

COMPANY VICE PRESIDENT NAMED AMONG OFFICERS OF PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY OF LAND SURVEYORS

Terry McMillen, Jr. was named as Secretary of the Pennsylvania Society of Land Surveyors (PSLS) during this year's annual conference held in Hershey, PA in January.

Mr. McMillen began his career at McMillen Engineering, Inc. thirty-three years ago as a part-time surveyor and progressively attained his current position as Vice President / Chief of Surveys where he oversees all survey projects. He is a Registered Professional Land Surveyor and views this appointment as a PSLS officer as an opportunity to give back to his profession.

“Contributing toward the advancement of the surveying profession is very important to me. I am eager to work alongside my peers to restore my experience to the profession and I am thankful for the opportunity to serve PSLS and its members in this role.”, said Mr. McMillen.

The importance of maintaining a commitment to the surveying profession has been instilled by his father, Terry McMillen Sr., who previously served as a past president of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers – Fayette Chapter. “Giving back to our professions is a rewarding opportunity that allows us to share valuable information and resources as a way to enhance the professions overall.”, said Terry McMillen, Sr.

McMillen Engineering is a full service civil engineering and land surveying firm located in the Fayette County Business Park in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pennsylvania. For more information visit mcmilleng.com.

“It is the mission of McMillen Engineering, Inc. to contribute toward the advancement of the civil engineering and land surveying fields by providing quality engineering, surveying and technical services to our clients in an efficient manner while promoting a work environment that offers opportunities for our employees to thrive both professionally and personally.”